Politically correct shutdown

Letter

Thursday, March 02, 2006

I'm glad the GVRD has got politically correct and shut down the shooting range. We all know there's a connection between guns and drugs. And, as World Anti-Doping Agency chief Dick Pound says, Olympic athletes are rife with drugs.

The GVRD should also shut down curling rinks. Not only do these "athletes" throw stones, but their foul language is appalling.

In fact, the GVRD should also shut down all ice rinks.

Those sharp blades on the skates remind me of knives, which we all know are the primary weapon for those who can't afford guns or pepper spray.
